

Sofia Jernberg, vocal artist

Sofia Jernberg, born in Ethiopia and raised in Vietnam and Sweden, is an exceptional singer/voice artist and composer. She studied jazz and composition in Sweden and lives and works in Stockholm. Her work focuses on unconventional techniques and sounds such as non-verbal vocalisation, split tones, toneless singing and distortion.

Music theatre and contemporary opera play an important role in Jernberg's artistic work. She participated in performances of Arnold Schönberg's Pierrot lunaire in 2010 and Salvatore Sciarrino's Lohengrin in 2014 by the Swedish ensemble Norrbotten NEO and embodied roles specifically written for her in new works such as Folie à Deux by Emily Hall and UR_ by Anna Thorvaldsdóttir. PIERROT LUNAIRE'S production, directed by Marlene Monteiro Freitas and conducted by Ingo Metzmacher, featured her as soloist together with Klangforum Wien at the Wiener Festwochen 2021 as well as at the KunstFestSpiele Herrenhausen and the Festival d'Automne à Paris 2022.

Another running theme in her work is the collaboration with visual artists such as Camille Norment in her pieces Rapture and Lull. Sofia Jernberg can be seen as a singer in the film Union of the North with Matthew Barney, Erna Ómarsdóttir and Valdimar Jóhannsson. She has received several commissions for compositions and recently premiered Dreams of our future for children's choir, soprano, voice and chamber ensemble at the Ultima Festival Oslo 2022 and a new composition for the Ensemble Contrechamps at the Borealis Festival 2023 in Bergen.

In 2021, she sang the successful world premiere of Chaya Czernowin's Atara with the Radio-Sinfonieorchester Wien at the Musikverein Wien presented by the Festival Wien Modern. She performed a solo concert at the Warsaw Autumn 2022 and made her debuts in 2023 with the Collegium Novum Zurich and Schönberg's Pierrot Lunaire in Basel and Zurich, with the Ensemble Resonanz and the programme Hymns & Laments at the Elbphilharmonie Hamburg as well as at the Lucerne Festival Forward with Fausto Romitelli's An Index of Metals – a video opera.

In the season 2024/25, Sofia will perform the programme Noise Uprising: A Polystylistic Atlas at De Bijloke Gent and at the Huddersfield Contemporary Music Festival together with the ZWERM Ensemble. Furthermore, she will sing the world premiere of Chaya Czernowin's piece No! with the LA Phil New Music Group at the Walt Disney Concert Hall Los Angeles as well as the German premiere with the WDR Sinfonieorchester at the WDR Funkhaus Cologne. She will also make her debuts at the Armory Hall New York in a solo recital as well as at the Concertgebouw Brugge in her programme Eroica I and will give a duo concert with Alexander Hawkins at the Jazzfest Berlin.

Please print out this biography unchanged. Omissions and alterations are only permitted in consultation with management.